By JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

WASHINGTON — (AP)—President Truman and Prime Minister Attlee appeared ready today to consider any reasonable proposal for a Korean settlement if it does not call for "appeasement" of the Chinese Communists.

At the same time officials here disavowed any real optimism over the prospects for acceptance by Red China of an appeal by 13 peace seeking Asian countries for the Communists to cease fire and negotiate a settlement.

More Arms For Europe

As the Anglo-American talks entered their fourth day (3:30 p. m. EST) the President and Prime Minister were concentrating on plans for a speedup in western European rearmament with the prospect that Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower can be named as supreme commander in a week or 10 days.

Differences with France over including German units in a western European defense force were evidently resolved. France announced last night that she will call a meeting of the western European nations in Paris next month to draw up plans for a European army.

France agreed to immediate formation of west German combat teams in the combined force—a victory for the U. S., which has been insisting that Germans should be incorporated into a European army as soon as possible.

Compromise Ruled Out

The French previously had insisted on creation of a unified defense ministry and on the pooling of western Europe's coal and

Ballot Recount Still Favoring Gov. Williams

DETROIT — (P)—More votes piled onto the margin of Governor G. Mennen Williams today as Michigan's tense governorship recount passed the quarter mark.

The youthful Democratic leader, gaining steadily each day since the recount started Dec. 2, was ahead of Republican Harry P. Kelly by 2,092 votes with 1,206 of the state's 4,355 precincts recounted. This marked a net gain of votes over his original canvassed margin of 1,154.

Newest figures showed: Williams (D) 934,548 Kelly (R) 932,456

The figures represented complete returns from 10 counties and partial returns from 55 more of the state's 83 counties. Complete returns have come from Clare, Crawford, Hillsdale, Isabella, Lapeer, Montcalm, Montmorency, Sanilac and Schoolcraft counties.

But Kelly refused to concede anything.

If the trend continues to the end, Williams could wind up with a final margin of approximately 4,000, counting his initial edge.

One of Kelly's biggest remaining causes for hope is a ruling by the state board of canvassers that may take hundreds—possibly thousands—of votes.

France Agrees To Reich Army

West Europe To Map Military Unity

PARIS — (P)—France pressed today for an anti-Communist army in Europe, bolstered by German manpower, and named one of her top generals to head warring French defenses in Red-ruled Indochina.

The cabinet announced it will call a meeting of the west European nations in Paris during January to draw up plans for an Atlantic defense force.

The announcement confirmed that France had agreed to immediate formation of West German combat teams in the Atlantic force.

For the Far East, France named Gen. Jean de Lattre de Tassigny as high commissioner in Indochina, with "full military and civil powers" to direct the war against the Communist-led Vietnamese.

De Lattre de Tassigny, who has been serving as commander of infantry in the joint general staff under the Brussels pact, will take over the duties of both civilian high commissioner Leon Pignon and Gen. Marcel Carpentier, now in command of French forces harassed by Ho Chi Minh's Nationalists.

Today's announcement was the first official disclosure that France has withdrawn her insistence on delay in forming German combat units until a unified defense ministry has been created.

Shipping Shutdown Started At Soo; One Lock Drained

SAULT STE. MARIE, Mich. — (P)—The winter shutdown of the Soo canal for the close of the Great Lakes shipping season has begun 15 to 20 days later than usual.

The first step toward closing the Soo for winter was taken yesterday when 13,800,000 gallons of water were pumped out of the Poe lock in 4½ hours.

Three other locks will be drained in the canal that connects lakes Superior and Huron.

C. E. Aune, engineer in charge, said the MacArthur lock—the canal's biggest—will be drained within a week by the corps of engineers.

Aune said the Davis or the Sablin lock will remain in operation as long as there is boat traffic between the two lakes.

Control Of Liquor Commission Taken From Gov. Williams

LANSING — (P)—Control of the State Liquor Control commission was wrestled from Governor Williams yesterday in a coup d'etat engineered by a Republican and a Democrat.

As a result, John J. Kozarek of Hamtramck, Governor Williams' personally-appointed commission chairman, was unseated, and Republican Commissioner Harry Henderson of Detroit was named in his place.

Kunzig Back On Job Henderson joined hands with Democratic Commissioner David M. Martin of Flint to pull off the coup.

It was Martin whom Williams

Work Speeded On Profits Tax

House Bill May Be Ready Next Week

By G. MILTON KELLY

WASHINGTON — (P)—The tax-writing senate finance committee, pressing for enactment of a multi-billion dollar excess profits tax before New Year's, set a speedup pace today to get the job done.

Chairman George (D-Ga.) told a reporter he still hopes to have a revised draft of the house-approved tax measure ready for senate action by the end of next week.

George scheduled 22 witnesses for today's hearing on the bill, after 20 witnesses yesterday had denounced the measure or features of it. The American federation of labor, an advocate of the excess profits theory, was down for testimony today.

George said he still hopes to wind up the hearings Friday, leaving next week free for actual drafting of the measure.

The committee clearly is known to be considering proposed revisions of the House bill which might cut more than $1,000,000,000 from its anticipated revenues.

George said it is "too early yet" to speculate on whether the committee might raise corporation income tax rates—now as high as 45 per cent—to make up for amounts cut from the excess profits tax yield.

Secretary of the treasury Snyder has protested the House version would fall $600,000,000 low. The $4,000,000,000 tax boost president Truman requested to help meet defense costs.

With Henderson at the helm and Martin lending a hand, the commission yesterday voted to restore Kunzig to his full duties and ordered him to return to the job Monday.

Pearl Harbor Day Finds U. S. Back In Freedom's Fight

WASHINGTON — (P)—Nine years ago today a Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor catapulted this nation into World War II.

The impact of the disaster of that Sunday afternoon—Dec. 7, 1941—stirred the United States to a mighty effort which brought a victory. And it heralded for America a new role of world leadership in the cause of freedom.

When the victory finally came, a tired and chastened world looked eagerly for a path to permanent peace. As a stepping stone, it set up the United Nations.

It's just nine years since Pearl Harbor. Where has the path led? In the Korean ice-box, hundreds of thousands carrying the U. N. banner are fighting for their lives against hordes of Chinese Communists. In Indochina and Malaya, man kills man for power or freedom.

War and rumors of war have not died. And in America and elsewhere around the world, leaders gather in public to confer or in private to prepare.

This is the picture: The United States has atom bombs, long range aircraft and the world's largest navy. Its allies are being expanded; its allies are stronger in war-waging potentialities than they were in 1941.

Russia and her satellites have twice the manpower of the west. Their economy is geared for war. Their spy and sabotage rings are active throughout the world. Russia may have atom bombs, too. If general war should come, the U. S. would have to fight again on a distant front but this time, the experts agree, the "Pearl Harbors" might easily be American cities.

The world has come thus far in just nine years.

Woman Is No. 1 Doctor Of 1950

Motherly Muskegon Physician Honored

DETROIT — (P)—Michigan medicine paid its highest honor today to a woman.

Motherly-looking Dr. Lucette I. Powers of Muskegon, at 75 still in practice, was chosen "Michigan's foremost family physician for 1950."

The Michigan state medical society gave Dr. Powers its proudest citation for her service of more than half a century to the healing arts.

Dr. Powers comes from a medical family. Her grandfather and great grandfather were doctors. Her parents were pharmacists. At 22 she entered the field with a degree from Northwestern university.

At that time it was nothing less than remarkable to see a woman physician.

Dr. Powers has a motherly appearance. But she has never had children of her own. Nevertheless, children have been a big part of her life. She is credited with having helped to bring 5,000 Muskegon babies into the world.

Top Republicans Consider Demand To Fire Acheson

WASHINGTON — (P)—Republican Senate leaders decided today to let all GOP senators pass upon a formal request "for the resignation or replacement of Secretary of State Acheson."

Senator Taft (R-Ohio), chairman, told reporters the 11-member Senate GOP policy committee after an hour and a half closed-door session, took no direct action itself.

Instead it agreed to call a conference of all 43 Republican senators early next week, probably Tuesday, for a discussion of the oust-Acheson move as well as foreign and military policies in general.

Even should such a demand be made, there is no assurance it would be met. In fact, President Truman has said repeatedly he has no intention of letting Acheson go.

The cabinet member's removal long has been a target of individual Republican Senators. They have denounced his foreign policies both in Asia and Western Europe and accused him of appeasing Russia abroad and pro-Communism at home.

Recent setbacks by United Nations forces in Korea have provided them with fresh ammunition.

Senator Ives (R-NY), who originally voted for Acheson's confirmation, now has brought to a head the question of whether Senate Republicans, as a party, should formally serve President Truman with a demand for Acheson's discharge.

Bodies Hunted Near St. Ignace

Illinois Man Claims He Killed Couple

ST. IGNACE, Mich. — (P)—Millard Blair, the Illinois man who says he killed two persons in Michigan was here today in his strange odyssey.

He and state police set out to find the spot "north of St. Ignace" where Blair claims to have left the bodies of a man and woman early last month.

Foot-deep snow on the roads, and even deeper in the woods, confronted the searchers.

A state trooper brought Blair here from Grand Rapids, where evidence was found to fit into the 36-year-old Illinois man's tale.

The police said a gasoline station here and a shoe store in Reed City were found at which Blair said he had passed bad checks en route north.

They gave up trying to find the tavern where Blair said he met his victims—known to him only as "Ben" and "Babe." Police detective Frank Bielecki of the Grand Rapids force said Blair's memory was "lean" on the place.

Authorities have been at a loss whether to believe Blair's story despite its support by a lie detector at Blair's home city of Mattoon, Ill.

Over 50 Million Goes For Christmas Trees

WASHINGTON — (P)—Americans will spend more than $50,000,000 for Christmas trees this year.

This estimate forecasting the sale of 28,500,000 trees was made today by the agriculture department.

The department said this season's supply will equal last year's, and that prices are likely to be about the same.

December Brings Shivers In Dixie

(By The Associated Press)

An early December storm, bringing heavy snow and sub-zero cold to the Midwest, swept over parts of the south and headed for eastern states today.

It was below zero as far south as Arkansas early today. Sleet and snow swept across Alabama. Parts of Dixie shivered in below freezing readings.

Snow piled high over the Midwest—up to a depth of 28 inches at Duluth, Minn. There was snow all over the middle and upper Mississippi Valley and the Lake Superior region. And more fell today.

Rain changed to snow in parts of Kentucky and Tennessee. Two thirds of Tennessee were

Over 100,000 Enemy Troops Set To Attack

Americans Battling Way Out Of Trap

(By The Associated Press)

TOKYO — (P)—Allied troops braced on a new hill defense line 25 miles south of fallen Pyongyang today for a stand against steadily advancing vanguards of a million-man Chinese Red expeditionary force.

The line stretched inland 70 miles in northwest Korea from the Yellow sea. It was a defense in depth on commanding heights and not a solid line.

More Moving Up

The U. S. Eighth Army, with its long and bitter retreat at a halt, was greatly outnumbered and hard hit but still was a unified fighting force.

The Chinese armies in front of it were estimated at 100,000 men with up to 80,000 combat reserves behind them. Reds and hundreds of thousands more in Korea or moving up from Manchuria.

The Eighth Army force on the defense line is something less than the 110,000 men Lt. Gen. Walton H. Walker had when he was forced to retreat late in November.

Northeast of the new line, U. S. marines and doughboys battled in a blizzard in a dogged effort to break out of Red traps south of the Changjin reservoir. They broke out of one and have to fight through another.

Underlining the critical situation of the United Nations forces near the reservoir and elsewhere in the northeast was the withdrawal of the American garrison from the east coast port of Wonsan.

Main Escape Route A bombardment by three U. S. destroyers and shore fire by South Korean marines covered the pull-out from Wonsan. Presumably the American garrison at Wonsan was relatively small.

Wonsan was captured Oct. 10 by South Korean troops. The same marines trapped at the Changjin reservoir landed at the port Oct. 15 after a week-long sweeping of a minefield offshore.

Gunman And His Girl Shoot It Out, Escape From Saginaw Police

SAGINAW, Mich. — (P)—A fast-drawing gunman and his girl friend shot it out with six policemen early today and roared away in a bullet-riddled car.

Officers searched the city, Saginaw county and highways as far north as Clare, Mich., for the pair.

In the cold, pre-dawn gun battle that preceded the couple's escape, as many as 30 shots were fired. Two patrolmen were threatened with abduction. Several nearby cars and buildings were punctured by bullets, but miraculously no one was injured.

Ejected From Bar

And it all started, police said, because the gunman complained that a party at the next table of a bowling alley-bar was making too much noise.

The battle took place in front of the recreation center on Saginaw's East side at about 2 a. m.

Two policemen, William Line and Charles Allen, were called to the combination bowling-drinking-dancing spot to quell a minor disturbance. It apparently originated when the couple, who witnesses said had been drinking, asked the band to play a tune.

An argument started with the party at the nearby table, and bartenders ejected the couple.

Outside two bartenders were

Russians Keep War Prisoners

Over 62,000 Germans Still In Captivity

LAKE SUCCESS, (P)—A west German representative said today at least 62,792 German war prisoners "are known to be still alive in Soviet captivity."

The representative, Georg Federar, reported this "minimum figure" as a United Nations committee prepared to take up a joint U. S.-British-Australian demand for U. N. action to shed light on the fate of thousands of German and Japanese prisoners taken by the Russians.

The demands, placed on the agenda of the general assembly's social and humanitarian committee over vigorous Soviet objections, is expected to be debated by the committee today or tomorrow.

Federar, secretary of a four-man west German delegation which will sit in on the debate, said in an interview that the 62,792 figure was obtained in a census carried out among west Germans and west Berliners by the Bonn government earlier this year.

He declared that "through the census it has furthermore become known that from the total of 1,150,000 ex-soldiers listed as missing by their relatives, 923,000 were last heard of either in Soviet territory or in Soviet-occupied regions. There is evidence that not all of them died in Soviet captivity."

Escanaba Still In Banana Belt

Enjoys Warm Air; Cold To South

Escanaba continues to be the nation's "banana belt"—temporarily, of course.

For instance, Escanaba's temperatures today were ranging in the high 30's while Mobile, Ala., on the Gulf of Mexico had a 32 and "sunny" New Orleans had a 27.

Kansas, Nebraska and the Dakotas were experiencing zero weather, said S. E. Decker, meteorologist in charge of the Escanaba weather bureau station in the absence of Henry A. Hathaway.

Decker said the thermometer registered 37 at 1 o'clock and probably would reach 40 later in the day. He said indications were that it would remain above freezing all night but probably would begin to show a slight drop tomorrow afternoon.

About nine inches of snow were on the ground at midnight last night but rainfall today was expected to reduce that.

Paradoxically, the local temperature probably would drop 10 degrees if the wind shifted to the south because a cold air mass is hovering south of Michigan.

Decker attributed Escanaba's mild weather to a flow of warm air from the Atlantic coastal region.

Civic Center Issue Debated

Council Will Make Decision Tonight

The Escanaba city council will decide tonight whether to begin the acquisition of property in the 1800 block of Ludington street for the eventual development of a two-square block civic center.

Specifically, the council will decide tonight whether to purchase either two or six lots in the area owned by Herbert Flath, or whether to give Flath a permit to construct a gasoline filling station there.

Other business scheduled to come before the council tonight includes the following:
Consideration of the sale of stone to Capt. Roen.
Consideration of water plant bond ordinance.

Resolution to place delinquent special assessments on December tax rolls.

Peter Ronkey Dies At Hospital Here

Peter Ronkey, about 65, of 331 Stephenson avenue, resident of Escanaba for 5 years, died at 7:30 p. m., last night at St. Francis hospital.

Mr. Ronkey, who was unmarried, worked in the woods, and for the Minneapolis & St. Paul railway.

He leaves a sister, Mrs. Lucille Kalishe of Milwaukee, who is enroute here, and a brother Joseph, whose address has not been determined.

The body was removed to Anderson Funeral home. Arrangements will be completed tomorrow.

Fire Bomb Hurlled In Pittsburgh Strike

PITTSBURGH — (P)—Police stood guard against renewal of violence today in a strike of 500 truck drivers against the city's three biggest department stores.

Last night unidentified men in a speeding auto hurled a home made gasoline bomb through a window of the big Gimbels department store warehouse on the south side.

The bomb landed on a delivery truck and caused $500 worth of damage before an automatic sprinkler system doused the flames. The incident could have been disastrous — 50 delivery trucks with tankfuls of gasoline were lined up in the warehouse.

Patrick McNellis Claimed By Death

Ill for the past 16 months with a heart ailment, Patrick A. McNellis of 305 North 18th street, died at 8:20 a. m., today in St. Francis hospital.

Until his health failed he had been employed as an engineer for the Birds Eye Veneer company. He was born in Escanaba and lived in this community all his life.

Mr. McNellis was a member of St. Patrick's church and of the Ancient Order of Hibernians.

Surviving are the following brothers and sisters, Mrs. Mayme Barras, Mrs. George Powell, Mrs. Charlotte Wilcox, David and Edward, all of Escanaba; Mrs. W. H. Willis of Gladstone, and Mrs. Nellie Reed of Racine, Wis.

The body is at the Alto funeral home where friends may call after 2 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Funeral services will be held at 9 a. m., Saturday in St. Patrick's church with the Rev. Fr. Martin Melican officiating. Burial will be in Holy Cross cemetery.

Pinecrest Pines' Growth Charted

Trees Were Planted 25 Years Ago

A three-acre mixed red and white pine plantation made co-operatively in 1925 by the Michigan State college Extension Service and Menominee county on the Pinecrest Sanatorium grounds at Powers has produced 137 standard cords of merchantable pulpwood in 25 years. This plantation was established to demonstrate that sandy soils not suited for farming will grow valuable forest products in a relatively short period of time.

The plantation was measured this past fall by Roy E. Skog, Michigan State college Extension forester, Marquette, and Gail E. Bowers, Menominee county agricultural agent to determine its development. In 1925 red pine and white pine was alternately planted in rows at the rate of 1,037 per acre and spaced 6 x 7 feet apart. Out of the 1,037 trees planted per acre 715 have survived and 425 have reached a size merchantable for pulpwood. The average merchantable tree is 6.5 inches in diameter at breast height and 23 feet tall.

A comparison of the white pine and red pine shows that the red pine has a higher survival and made better growth. Red pine survival is 78 per cent and white pine 63 per cent. Red pine has attained an average height of 31 feet and an average diameter at breast height of 5.6 inches. The average white pine measures 25 feet and 5.1 inches.

Ice Show Will Be Continued

Recreation Dep't To Sponsor Event

The city recreation department will sponsor and conduct the 1951 Escanaba ice revue, it was decided at a meeting of the recreation board Wednesday night at the city hall.

Jeanette LeCaptain, who directed the revue the last several years, will be in charge of the show again this winter but she will not be able to train the cast because of illness. Mrs. Hilda Turnquist has been secured as the trainer.

All expenditures for the revue must be approved by the recreation director, Art Peterson, and all purchases made by him. It is planned to present the show one additional night. The dates for the event have not yet been selected.

It is planned to conduct the show within the limits of anticipated receipts and to avoid a deficit.

Escanaba Eagles Win U. P. Trophy In Member Drive

Jack Laundre, worthy president of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, Aerie 1038, has announced that the Escanaba lodge has won the Upper Peninsula membership contest, which extended from Aug. 1 to Oct. 1.

Arrangements are being made to have Ralph Bird, state president, and Frank Shultz, state trustee, to present the trophy at a formal initiation ceremony to be held in the near future.

The world's most northerly land-based radar station is being built by the Norwegian polar institute at Svalbard.

Two-Vote Gain For Williams

Complete Recount In Escanaba Prec. 1

Williams gained two and Kelly lost two in the recount of the first precinct of 29 in Delta county to be completed by the county board of canvassers.

Votes in Precinct No. 1, city of Escanaba, were recounted yesterday at the court house in Escanaba. Today the county board of canvassers continue with a recount of votes in the Second and Third Escanaba precincts.

The canvass figures compared to the recount figures for Precinct No. 1 are as follows:

Canvass	Recount
Williams . . . . . 192	194
Kelly . . . . . 421	419

Net gain for Williams in that precinct, therefore, would be four votes.

Atty. Harlan Yelland, representing the state board of canvassers at the recount, said that 22 votes were challenged in the recount of Escanaba Precinct No. 1.

Kelly lost two of the challenged votes when Atty. Yelland sustained the challenge because there were identifying marks on the ballots.

The canvassing board finished the recount in Escanaba No. 1 and started work on Precinct No. 2 in the city, completing the tallying of Republican and Democratic straight ballots. Today the board will resume the recount for that precinct.

Railroad To Get Protest Of C-C

Marinette Objects To Old Coaches

MARINETTE, Wis.—The board of directors of the Chamber of Commerce voted at a noon meeting to send a protest to the Chicago and North Western railroad on treatment of local passengers.

A letter will be sent to the railroad's officials protesting the herding of passengers here into old coaches on trains that have both new type and old type accommodations.

One instance in particular was the return of college students after the Thanksgiving holiday. Passengers in this area were forced to seat themselves in old coaches while the streamliner coaches were kept locked until more southerly points on the line were reached.

The passengers were told that the crew had received orders to keep the coaches locked.

MANY NEVER SUSPECT CAUSE OF BACKACHES

As we get older, stress and strain, over-exertion, excessive smoking or exposure to cold sometimes slows down kidney function. This may lead many folks to complain of nagging backache, loss of pep and energy, headaches and dizziness. Getting up nights or frequent passages may result from minor bladder irritations due to cold, dampness or dietary indiscretions.

If your discomforts are due to these causes, don't wait, try Doan's Pills, a mild diuretic. Used successfully by millions for over 50 years. While these symptoms may often otherwise occur, it's amazing how many times Doan's give happy relief—help the 15 miles of kidney tubes and filters flush out waste. Get Doan's Pills today!

Election Recount Is Showing What Is Wrong With The System

THE first returns from the election recount in the governorship race indicate that while a number of ballots are being disqualified because of errors by the voters, even more are being disqualified due to errors by election clerks.

In Midland county, for instance, 215 Kelly votes and 197 Williams votes were tossed out because the ballots weren't properly initiated by the election officials. All of this occurred in a single precinct with the result that more than 200 voters in that precinct alone were disfranchised through no fault of their own. As the old saying goes, as far as these voters were concerned, they might better have stood in bed.

The election recount is going to reveal many, many such voting irregularities. The disclosure will give some substance to the contention of non-voters that going to the polls on election day is a waste of time. Fortunately for our democracy, the majority of the people will reject that contention. They know that the cure for the ills of election procedures is the correction of the faults, not abandonment of elections.

As a result of the statewide election recount, the people of Michigan are going to learn many of the things that are wrong with our election system. And they are going to demand that constructive efforts be taken to correct those wrongs. The people will want guarantees that when they vote, their ballots will be properly tabulated according to the intention of the voters.

Regardless of the final outcome of the election recount, the careful examination of the ballots will be a good thing for democracy in Michigan. We will ascertain what is wrong with our election procedures and we will be stupid, indeed, if we fail to correct the wrongs.

Parked Cars Delay Snow Loading Job

WHEN you see the snowloader a block away on Ludington street nowadays don't park your car in its path.

This is the appeal issued by street crews who are doing their utmost to remove snow from the business district. But an unusually large number of parked automobiles have been hindering operations this week. When the workmen are forced to take time off to pull parked cars back from the curb to permit the snowloader to pass, much valuable time is lost. It also means extra expense to the taxpayers.

After a snow storm, it is well to keep in mind that the snowloader will be operating on Ludington street. A good idea is to park your automobile off Ludington street during snow removal periods.

MECHANICAL CONSCIENCE (Christian Science Monitor)

The advertisement calls it the "golf's pal." But we are not quite sure whether we are sufficiently palsy-walsy with our best golfer friend to give him one without his misunderstanding the motive.

The gadget, to pursue the description, is worn like a wrist watch, counts strokes automatically, and records them accurately. Is such mechanical literalism destined to take all the imagination out of golf?

There is no doubt that mechanical ingenuity is continually enriching modern living. Taking such gadgets as the $6.95 clam shucker, the electric alarm clock that resets itself after waking a sleeper, and the mechanical card shufflers for those whose hands have not been sufficiently stretched by forward passing or piano playing to encompass a canasta deck.

But if golf scores become as mechanized as the counting in modern voting machines, things may come to the pass where a fisherman will have to use the same ruler in telling about his catch to his friends as to the game warden, and salesmen may find themselves carrying electronic recorders to make out their expense accounts.

The results may be the same as now, but some of the most durable wheezes will have gone out of American humor.

LIFE, HOPE AND CROSBY (St. Louis Post-Dispatch)

Where there's Life, there's Hope with a $2,010,000 libel suit. We confess to being considerably baffled by Bob Hope's libel suit against Life and John Crosby, the radio critic. Mr. Hope says a Crosby article in Life implied that he stole Fred Allen's jokes. We had been supposing all along that the jokes used by Mr. Hope and Mr. Allen as well were in the public domain, and had been in it before Mr. Allen, or Mr. Hope, or radio for that matter, was born. This is now alleged not to be so. It seems to us that any attempt to prove this allegation is going to be perfectly fascinating.

What baffles us even more, however, is the further allegation that the Crosby article in Life has caused people to "shun and avoid" Hope. We have tried hard to imagine it, and it can't be imagined. Bob Hope is not a man anyone would conceivably want to avoid, and even if he were, he is not the kind of person for it. To the contrary, he is completely unavoidable. Next thing we know, someone will be trying to tell us Arthur Godfrey and Milton Berle have taken the notion they are poor mixers and their friends are leaving them in droves.

We won't believe it a bit more—which is to say, not any at all.

It'll be a lot easier for newly-weds to feather their nests when prices are down.

With all the kids playing out in the yard, it won't be lawn now!

Merry-Go-Round

By DREW PEARSON

WASHINGTON—There is a certain vein of similarity running through the lives of the two men who conferred this week regarding the course to be followed by the British and American governments toward future war or peace.

Prime Minister Attlee and President Truman both are left-of-center liberals, both have spent much of their lives in government, both have tried to work for the less-privileged sector of the British and American people.

Neither is considered a strong man in his own country, neither is a man of much imagination, neither has the force, the flair, the genius of two others who conferred a great deal during the past decade—Franklin Roosevelt and Winston Churchill.

However, Clement Attlee, in his quiet way and backed by a powerful Labor party, has put across a schedule of Socialist legislation which staid old Britons never dreamed could happen.

And while these reforms were passed in the face of vigorous conservative opposition, nevertheless Attlee today has one important advantage over President Truman. He has the support of his opponent, Winston Churchill, when it comes to foreign policy.

CHURCHILL ADVISED TRIP

Furthermore, he has the support of most of the Conservative party. On the other hand, Truman of late has had the bitter, sometimes vitriolic opposition of a majority of Republican senators in regard to almost every foreign-policy move he has made.

Attlee not only was careful to get Churchill's support before he left London, but Churchill even advised him on how to force Truman's hand regarding the trip.

What happened was that immediately after the prime minister heard of Truman's atom-bomb statement, he called on Churchill. Though political opponents, the two men served in the same coalition war cabinet together and are personal friends. At one time Attlee was Churchill's deputy prime minister, and handled British domestic affairs while Churchill was busy with the war.

With this background of friendship, it is not hard to understand why Attlee should have consulted Churchill or that Churchill advised him that he should take the trip to Washington. Furthermore, Churchill suggested that inasmuch as Truman might be opposed to the trip, Attlee should make a premature announcement of his plan—thus making it impossible for Truman to decline. This was why news of Attlee's plans prematurely leaked from London.

Churchill also promised Attlee that no effort would be made to overthrow the Labor government while he was away.

ATLEE'S TORY BACKGROUND

Though Truman and Attlee have much in common politically, Attlee came from more conservative surroundings. His father was a Tory lawyer and president of the British equivalent to the American Bar association. After studying at England's ritziest schools and being admitted to the bar, however, young Attlee suddenly became a social worker. At the age of 24 he went to work and lived in Limehouse, one of London's workmen's districts, and he has made his life with labor ever since.

Unlike Mr. Truman, who frequently lapses into Missouri mule-driver's language, Attlee's diction is cultured, sometimes poetic. In fact, he has written some widely quoted poems, one of them regarding his own workingmen's district, which reads:

"I hear the feet of many men who go their way . . .

Through streets that have no pity, and streets where men decay."

Attlee is married to Violet Helen Millar, and for many years they lived with their four children in a modest house in a London suburb where Attlee did a little gardening and repaired his own pipes in his own carpenter's shop.

Unlike Truman, Attlee is a halting, non-to-forceful speaker. When he speaks impromptu, he hesitates and repeats. The president, on the other hand, is at his best when speaking off the cuff. In conferences, Attlee tries to win his point by charm and persuasion. The president sometimes gets impatient and petulant.

Take My Word For It . . . Frank Colby

A READER DISAGREES ABOUT THE WORD RODEO

Van Nuys: You recently stated that the rodeo is an American institution. Colby, you're wrong! Any school child knows that the word rodeo is from the Spanish.—W. W. B.

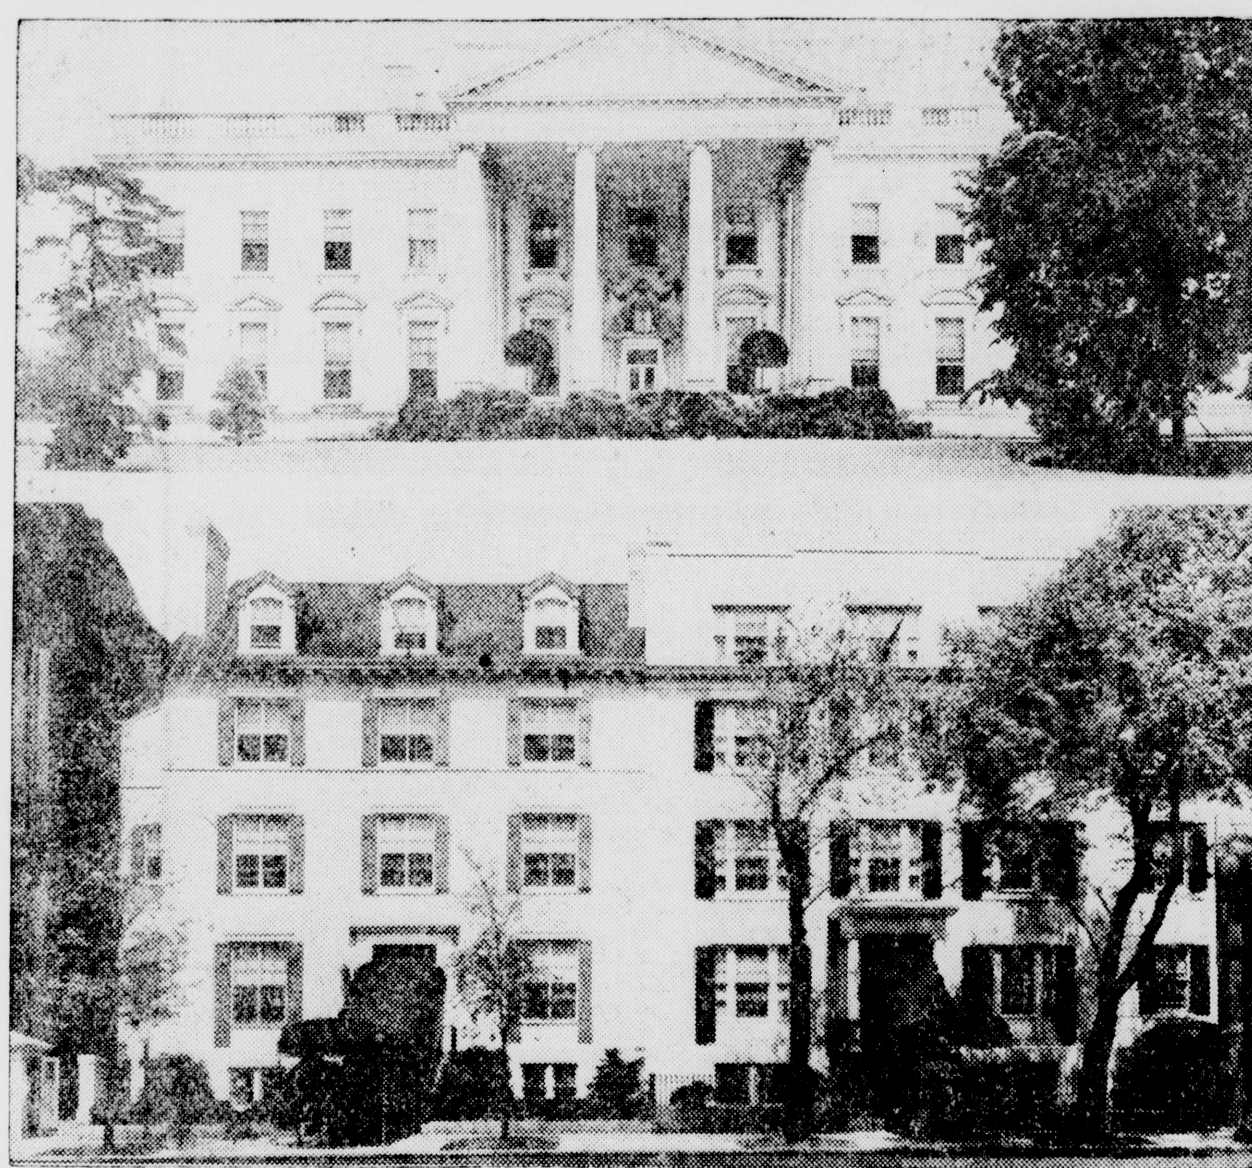

A. So it is; and the Spanish dictionaries define rodeo thus: "Turn, winding; roundabout course, method or way; roundup; enclosure for cattle, stockyard, corral; circumlocution, beating about the bush; evasion, subterfuge."

Now here is the true history of the word rodeo as it occurs in American English. Early in the 1800's in the cattle country, the word rodeo was adopted as another name for the roundup (one of its Spanish meanings). The word was given the English pronunciation ROE-dee-oh, instead of the Spanish "roe-day-oh."

Now it had long been the custom among cattlemen to stage impromptu contests and exhibitions of riding and roping skills following the annual roundup of range cattle. These exhibitions usually were held in the ranch corral, with the spectators perched along the top of the fence.

Such exhibitions came to be known as rodeos, and the name rodeo for the roundup gradually disappeared, leaving rodeo with the exclusive American meaning.

In 1888, the nation's first professional rodeo—a public event at which admission was charged and prizes were awarded to the contestants—was organized at Prescott, Arizona. The rodeo has been an annual Fourth of July event there ever since.

THE RECENT ATTEMPT on the president's life has brought renewed interest in proposals that both the White House and Blair House be abandoned as living quarters for Chief Executives and that a dwelling in uptown Washington, away from the roar of downtown traffic and better from the standpoint of security, be established. Top, the White House, now undergoing extensive repairs, would become a national museum under this plan, which has received considerable attention in Congressional circles. Lower, historic Blair-Lee House and Blair House, the temporary residence of the President where the attack occurred, would continue in the use for which they were originally intended when purchased by the Federal Government several years ago, an hotel for top-ranking official guests of the nation.

Assassination Attempt May Result In Changing Presidential Quarters

By HERBERT HOLLANDER

The recent assassination attempt against President Truman has raised anew, in Congress and elsewhere, the whole question of safe and adequate housing for the chief executives of the United States.

It has brought to the forefront once more such questions as these: Should Blair House be vacated immediately by the president and his family as a security measure? Should the White House, the old central portion of which is being completely rebuilt on the inside, be set aside as a museum and an entirely new house constructed in a more desirable uptown location in the National Capital?

Must presidents resign themselves to an even stricter set of security measures in the years which lie immediately ahead, in view of the tenseness of the world situation?

There is considerable opinion in Washington that Blair House, which has been occupied by Mr. Truman since reconstruction of the White House began, should be abandoned as a presidential abode.

Housed Many Notables

This gracious, ancient and historic dwelling directly across Pennsylvania Avenue from the White House, was bought by the United States government some years ago as a temporary residence for official guests of this country, and during the past decade it has housed presidents, kings and emperors, shahs, princes and prime ministers.

It was bought from Gist Blair, descendant of the original owner of the house, Francis Preston Blair, a fighting editor who came to Washington as one of Andrew Jackson's most vigorous supporters and a member of his famed "kitchen cabinet." Together with the Blair-Lee House, immediately adjoining, it fills a need long felt by the Government; and both dwellings are, in architecture and appointments, splendid examples of early American homes.

But, it is pointed out, from the standpoint of security Blair House leaves a very great deal to be desired; and it is known that the U. S. Secret Service from the beginning has been concerned about the set-up.

Blair House—and Blair-Lee House as well—has no surrounding grounds, being hush with the sidewalk.

Since the assassination attempt, the sidewalk in front of Blair House has been roped off and only pedestrians with business in the block—which includes the U. S. Court of Claims—are permitted to pass.

But this admittedly is far from satisfactory from many points of view; and although the south side walk of Pennsylvania avenue, across from Blair House, now also is guarded, pedestrian traffic continues as before, with police officers to keep it moving.

Heavy Traffic

Moreover, on Pennsylvania avenue street car and motor vehicle traffic goes by in an endless stream. In fact, automobile volume has been heavier than before the attack. Hundreds of sightseers pass hourly in buses, taxis, limousines and private cars—and slowly too, while hawks ro-tell the dramatic story and point out just where the bodies lay.

The difficulty in guarding Blair House has been graphically demonstrated. The violence and bravery of Secret Service officers alone prevented a tragedy. And, it is specially noteworthy that this is the first time in American history that an attempt on the life of a president has been made at his place of residence.

President Jackson was attacked at the Capitol and gave his assailant a sound caning; President Lincoln was murdered at Ford's Theater; President Garfield was shot at the Washington railroad station; President McKinley was shot while attending the Buffalo exposition. President-elect Roosevelt was shot at in Miami; the bullet killed Chicago's Mayor Anton Cermak.

Many persons through the years have been stopped at the White House gates, disarmed and arrested. Most of them are taken to the city hospital for mental observation. However, while from time to time unauthorized persons have gained access to the White House—that was especially true in years gone by, and many Presidents and their families have been startled to find strangers wandering around their living quarters—no attempt on a President's life has been made there.

Several suggestions have been made for a new temporary residence for the President pending completion of reconstruction of the White House.

One is a house on the grounds of the Naval Observatory, on Massachusetts avenue in uptown Washington.

These grounds, long owned by the Federal Government, are an embassy row just 10 minutes' drive from the heart of the city. In addition to the observatory facilities, they contain the residence of the chief of naval operations. During the war the grounds were a restricted area and there are facilities for security which could easily be reactivated and greatly extended if the president were to move there.

It also has been proposed that the government either buy or lease the famous and historic Woodley estate, also in uptown Washington and within just as easy access of downtown and the President's offices at the White House.

Zoning Controversy

Woodley now is the subject of a zoning dispute. It was owned by the late Henry L. Stimson, who used it when he lived in Washington and served as Secretary of State and Secretary of War in the cabinets of Presidents Hoover and Roosevelt. Before his death Mr. Stimson gave the property to Phillips Exeter Academy, which recently sold it; and the present owners now are seeking its use as a school and an apartment house site.

This has resulted in a controversy, with the Historical Sites Association, and many local residents, demanding preservation of the property in its present state. The District Zoning Commission, after a spirited hearing, has deferred action until spring.

Woodley is one of the oldest and most historic fine homes in the Capital; probably the oldest. It was built around 1800 by the uncle of Francis Scott Key, and the author of the "Star-Spangled Banner" spent much time there. It has been visited by many Presidents and a host of other noted Americans for 150 years. Simple and unpretentious, it is a direct link with the past, going back to the very earliest days of the Capital.

Located in a quiet uptown neighborhood, Woodley stands in, about seven well-tended acres and in a grove of magnificent old oak trees. Security-wise it is believed to be desirable since the house is so centrally situated within the property that, with modern methods, it could be effectively guarded.

Several presidents who have lived in Washington—and all have done so since the second, John Adams—have found it necessary to find accommodations other than the White House for varying periods.

The first was James Madison, who was ousted from the mansion as a result of the burning of that building during the War of 1812.

Still standing at the corner of 19th street and Pennsylvania avenue, and now occupied by a drug store, is the building in which President and Dolly Madison lived for several years after Admiral Cockburn put the White House to the torch in August of 1814.

Anderson Cottage, where President Lincoln spent summer week-ends during the troubled days of the Civil War, continues in regular daily use on the grounds of the U. S. Soldiers' Home.

Just a few years ago, Red Top, a farm house in which President Cleveland got away from the heat of downtown Washington, was torn down. It was located in the quiet neighborhood now known as Cleveland Park.

At Dupont Circle, in the heart of mid-town Washington, is the mansion in which President Coolidge lived while the White House was being repaired after a fire which did considerable damage to its roof and upper stories. That house, owned by the late Mrs. Eleanor Patterson, colorful newspaper publisher, was willed by her to the American Red Cross, which has since decided to dispose of the property.

Prior to the decision to completely rebuild the inside of the old section of the White House—these are the living rooms, the east and west wings, much never, contain offices and did not require reconstruction—it had been urged in some quarters that the building be abandoned as a residence and transferred into a permanent national museum.

There has been some renewal of this suggestion since the assassination attempt on the ground that the downtown location of the mansion makes it increasingly undesirable both as living quarters and also for security reasons.

However, it is regarded as unlikely that this will be done, at least for the time being.

But definitely within the possibility of early action is a move out of Blair House pending completion of the White House, which is not expected before the end of next year.

And in any case, the president, always closely guarded, will find himself more than ever the subject of endless and hawk-eyed vigilance; every movement and action even more than before under constant observation. Presidents from time to time have eluded the Secret Service for brief periods; it is extremely unlikely that that will happen again in the near future.

Nothing pays off more in the end than not being too serious in art. It's all right to make other people think it's serious, but the artist should never take it too seriously himself.—European artist Fabius Gugel.

RECOUNTING VOTES—On the second floor of the court house at Escanaba the Delta county board of canvassers is starting the recount of votes cast in the Nov. 7 election for the office of Governor.

Walter Deloria of Garden, one of the three members of the board of canvassers, is also the newest. He was appointed to the board following the resignation of the late Edward LaMotte, also of Garden, when the latter was elected supervisor of Garden township.

The two "veteran" members of the board of canvassers are John Wolf of Escanaba, chairman, and J. F. "Jack" Richardson of Gladstone.

They sit at a central table in the court room, with Democratic and Republican challengers hanging over their shoulders. Every time the canvassers turn a ballot face-up on the table, the challengers from the political parties fasten their eyes on it to determine whether they consider it valid or invalid and whether it shall be counted challenged or unchallenged.

As Jack Richardson commented at a rules meeting the day before the recount opened:

"Challengers who will be hanging over our shoulders are asked to refrain from eating onions for the period of the recount."

THE HONOR—Atty. Harlan Yelland of Escanaba represents the state board of canvassers and he must rule on the validity of the challenged ballots.

If there is no agreement on the part of the party representatives as to whether the ballot shall be counted or uncounted, Atty. Yelland gives a ruling. The challenged ballots then are kept separate (although counted or not counted on the basis of the ruling) in the event there is an appeal to the supreme court from the report of the state board of canvassers.

After the preliminary meeting Tuesday morning we asked Atty. Yelland how much he received for his services.

"Nothing," he replied, "unless I incur expenses in connection with the recount, which doesn't appear likely. The appointment to represent the state board of canvassers brings me honor but no pay."

NOT FAR OFF—Just how is the recount financed? According to the Associated Press it will be paid for by the loser when the recount is completed.

The cost will be $5 per precinct, or a total of about $21,000 for the state as a whole. This does not cover all of the cost, of course, for some of the work is being done by persons already on the public payroll. State police who collect and guard the ballot boxes, for example, will not receive additional compensation.

In Delta county there are 29 precincts, which would mean the payment to this county alone of $145 total. It is believed this amount will be sufficient, or nearly so, to complete the recount unless the canvassing board encounters many difficulties and delays in its work.

FOLLOW THE RULES—There was some concern expressed by Atty. Yelland before the opening of the recount that party representatives might bring a wholesale challenge of votes and fail to reach agreement on many of them.

This would place umpire Yelland on a spot, and he frankly told the Democratic and Republican representatives that they should study the election laws and strive to reach agreement, rather than depend on him for all of the decisions on the validity of ballots.

"The law is before you and the rules are clear," he pointed out.

Gerald Cleary, Delta county Democratic committee chairman, and Atty. John G. Erickson, Delta county Republican committee chairman, agreed at the preliminary meeting that they expected few major disagreements on ballot validity that could not be settled amicably.

POINTING THE WAY—To the casual observer it is obvious that the recount machinery has been set up and operates fairly and honestly.

The result of the Michigan recount for governor will determine who will be the state's governor for the next two years. The majority vote, no matter how slight the margin, will decide the contest.

Into The Past

10 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Donnie Potenhauer, who captained Coach George Ruwitch's mythical Upper Peninsula champions, the Eskymos, through their second consecutive undefeated season, yesterday was named utility back on the expanded 12-man all-state football squad selected by the Detroit Times. Potenhauer, with his teammate, center Keith McDonald, previously was chosen for the U. P. Sportswriters all-star eleven.

Gladstone—Robert Corbett, quarterback, was selected captain of the 1941 Gladstone grid team at a meeting yesterday.

Manistique—Mabel Slough, Gladys Gilbert, Margaret English, Mrs. Frank Genry and Mrs. Carl Malmborg are leaving in the morning for Land O' Lakes, Wis., to compete in the Northern Woman's Bowling tournament.

20 YEARS AGO

Escanaba—Vincent Bergman of Escanaba and Willis G. Leiphart of Munising will represent Upper Michigan at the world assembly for boys in Toronto, Canada, next July. Selection was made at the Older Boys conference in Iron Mountain.

Gladstone—Rolland A. Hale was elected to succeed Floyd Marble as president of the Gladstone city club at the regular annual meeting. Other officers elected were B. R. Micks, vice president, and Al Raddant, secretary-treasurer.

Manistique—Mrs. Gordon Hughes directs the three-act play "Kempy" which will be presented here next week under auspices of the Manistique Woman's club.

Canadians, Americans Brothers In Arms

IN the last great war, the war economies of the United States and Canada were closely integrated. A joint defense board planned for mutual defense of the two nations. They were the results of arrangements made in personal talks at Hyde Park between President Roosevelt and Prime Minister King, and lapsed with victory.

The new threat in the Pacific has drawn the two neighboring nations even closer together. The bulk of Canada's special forces are now in training at Fort Lewis, Wash., to prepare to fight side by side with their American brother-in-arms. Canada's army is switching to United States arms and equipment as rapidly as possible. Every indication points to the Canadian forces being molded into higher American, rather than British, formations.

On the economic front, regulations have already been issued by both nations to grant priorities for raw materials and services to essential war industries on both sides of the border. In effect, each will be treated as a part of the arsenal of the other. Along the entire border, states and provinces are arranging to aid each other in case of air attacks and to exchange all facilities. Integration is complete in every aspect of defense. It is a reassuring symbol of the peace and understanding along the longest undefended border in the world.

Questions and Answers

Q—What duty is imposed by the U. S. Customs Service on original works of art?
A—Under the law, original works of art, no matter how valuable, may be brought into this country duty free.

Q—Are the Canadian and American sides of Niagara Falls the same height?
A—Goat Island divides Niagara Falls into two parts, the American and Canadian. The American Fall is 167 feet high, which is several feet greater than the height of the Canadian, or Horseshoe Fall.

Those Leggings

By Gordon Martin

When the chilly wind of winter comes to howl around the door, it's a warning to a mother of a mighty tiresome chore. For it means that kids who play outdoors must wear their clothing warm, and must swathe themselves in woollens as protection 'gainst the storm. So it's many times a day this mother's long for weather fair, as they wrestle with the bulky clothes their children have to wear.

Now it's bad enough to have to fight a pair of overshoes, but here's something else that always gives a mother winter blues. It's those bulky, stubborn leggings which the children wear at play, and it seems they have them on and off a thousand times a day. For no sooner are the kids indoors than out they want to go, and again she tugs those leggings on to guard against the snow.

Not to mention soggy mittens and a heavy, woolly coat, and a muffler that she has to tie around a youngster's throat. And when comes the winter evening, she must fight a case of nerves, caused by all the clumsy clothing which her children's health preserves. She'll be glad when once again the summer weather comes to stay, and no leggings will be needed when the kids go out to play.

Wood Research Parley Is Held

Advisory Committee Meets In Kalamazoo

The advisory committee on Forest Products Research at the Michigan College of Mining and Technology met recently at Western Michigan college in Kalamazoo. Reports of progress were submitted to the committee by Dr. Herford Garland, director of forest products research at Michigan Tech, and by Professors A. W. Toole, W. A. Koepf, and L. H. Hooker, members of his staff. Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of the college, also attended the meeting.

The progress reports covered several current projects of the division in each of the following categories of research: industry development, utilization of low-grade lumber, hardwood fiber production and use, and logging research.

At a noon luncheon, Rolland H. Bradford, manager of the Chicago office of Ebasco Services, Inc., discussed problems and requirements for development of large-scale industrial enterprises, with particular reference to the pulp and paper industry.

Dr. Alfred H. Nadelman, head of the Pulp and Paper Technology curriculum of the department of chemistry at Western Michigan college, was host to

South Shore Ry. Cancels Trains

Marquette-Negaunee Service Curtailed

MARQUETTE, Mich. — Two trains of the Duluth, South Shore & Atlantic Railroad operating between Marquette and Negaunee and Champion will suspend service, beginning next Sunday.

They are Train No. 107 which made connections on Saturday nights from Marquette with the Chicago & North Western Railroad at Negaunee and the Milwaukee Road at Champion; and Train No. 108 which made connections on Sunday morning from Champion and Negaunee to Marquette.

In brief, this means that DSS&A passenger, mail and express service between Champion and Marquette, both ways, will be discontinued over the weekends.

Passengers, mail and express bound for the Chicago area, however, will continue to receive service via DSS&A Train No. 1 which departs from Marquette for Negaunee at 3 p. m. (city time) on Saturdays.

T. C. Foster, city passenger agent for the DSS&A, said reason for discontinuing the service was lack of patronage. Aside from Trains 106 and 107, there will be no other change in the DSS&A schedule in this area, Foster added.

hly thousands of ballots off the scrap heap and put them back into the tally.

The ruling was that ballots initiated in the wrong place by election officials should not be thrown out if the initials could be found without exposing the vote.

In an Ishpeming precinct of Marquette county only seven ballots—all absentee—were counted. Williams, who got only three of these, lost 139 for lack of ballot initials and Kelly dropped 60.

Baby No. 13 Arrives In Stalled Auto

COLUMBUS, O. — (AP) — The stork overtook a stalled family auto here last night, bringing the 13th child to Mrs. Mary Adams, 32.

A seven-pound boy arrived when the motor of the Adams' car stalled at a street intersection while en route to University hospital.

A fire department emergency squad administered medical aid to the mother, father Linzie Adams, and the new baby turned around and went home.

Clear Highways Of Deep Slush; Some Schools Are Closed

Schools of the Bark River-Harris district and at Powers in Menominee county were closed today because buses could not get over some side roads inches deep in slushy snow.

Delta county road crews were busy today scraping and plowing the slush from the highways before a freeze-up comes. All main side roads and all state trunklines were open for traffic. Only "stub" roads were still reported unplowed.

The slush followed a three-inch snowfall last night that turned to rain beginning early this morning.

In Escanaba plows were working city streets all day and snow removal continued on Ludington street.

Former Houghton Professor Faces Deportation Again

WASHINGTON — (AP) — A second deportation order now faces Edward V. Sittler, the teacher who renounced his American citizenship and worked for the Nazis in Germany.

The immigration department announced the new order yesterday. It followed upon a second hearing in the case.

Sittler, ousted from his job at Michigan Tech at Houghton, Mich., after testifying in U. S. espionage trials, has until Dec. 15 to appeal.

The deportation order applies also to his wife, Lily, and their four German-born children, but it does not apply to their two American-born children.

Immigration officials indicated that Sittler would be taken into custody immediately if he does not appeal and deported forthwith. He is reported now in Chicago.

Casualties In Korea Increase To 32,442

WASHINGTON — (AP) — Announced American casualties in Korea rose to 32,442 today, an increase of 1,414 in a week.

The total is based upon the number of casualties reported to the next of kin through Dec. 1, and does not represent all losses up to that time.

The defense department gave this breakdown in today's report:

Killed in action 5,038.
Wounded 22,337, of whom 573 later died of wounds. This means there actually have been a total of 5,616 deaths reported.

Missing in action total 4,334.

Vishinsky Says U. S. Is Stirring Up War By Korean Meddling

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — Russia's Andrei Y. Vishinsky told the United Nations today "the American intervention in Korea is the cause of the third world war and it must be halted to avert it."

The Soviet foreign minister spoke before the general assembly's 60-nation political committee in a vigorous attempt to delay debate on a six-power demand for the withdrawal of Chinese Communist troops from Korea.

Vishinsky flatly rejected an appeal by Faris El Khoury of Syria that he drop his opposition and let the committee get on with its debate on the China-Korea issue.

CHICAGO GRAIN
CHICAGO—(AP)—In an active trade, grains inclined upward today on the Board of Trade.

Both December oats and December corn recorded new seasonal highs at the start. The December corn contract opened on a gain of two cents, but this was out of line with the rest of the market and the contract quickly fell more than a cent. Lard also scored new seasonal highs.

Best gains were not held as the market met profit-taking. This was particularly true of soybeans, which at times sank under the previous close.

When near the end of the first hour was unchanged to 34 cent higher, December $2.50 1/2, corn was 1/4 to 3/8 higher, December $1.67 1/2, and oats were 1/4 to 1/8 higher, December $2.05, beans were 1/2 cent lower to 1/4 higher, January $2.07 1/2, and lard was 13 cents lower seven cents to a hundred pounds higher, December $16.85.

Gunman And Girl Fight Police And Flee In Saginaw

standing with the man and woman when the officers approached. Suddenly the man turned around, whipped out a pistol and ordered the two patrolmen to drop their guns. They did.

More Officers Called
The bartenders, meanwhile, slipped back into the tavern and called for more police. Two more officers, Henry Wachowski and Edward Nowaczynski, came up.

"Tell them everything's all right," the gunman ordered Allen and Line. Then he started joking and laughing nonchalantly.

As the two new officers approached, the man whistled again and got the drop on Wachowski and Nowaczynski. He ordered them to drop their guns—and they did.

The woman in the meantime had pulled another gun and was helping cover the four officers.

At this point Nowaczynski ducked behind his police car, dodged a shot and radioed for more help. In this interlude, Line also bent over and recovered his gun.

Patrolman Allen did the same and eventually Wachowski broke away.

Two more policemen drove up and the man and woman retreated toward their car, firing. In the hail of bullets several cars in an adjoining parking lot were hit. Bullets peppered the walls of the recreation center and shots whined against the walls of nearby houses.

Blonde Found Dead In Danish Envoy's Chicago Apartment

CHICAGO—(AP)—The body of an attractive, 27 year old strawberry blonde was found early today in the swank apartment of Jorn Ahlers, 32, Danish Vice Consul in Chicago.

Police Lt. John Leabeater said he believes the woman, Mrs. Marion Herben, took 12 sleeping tablets. Her body, fully clothed, was found on a couch in the study of Ahlers' eighth floor suite in the near north side apartment.

Ahlers, the lieutenant said, gave a signed statement and was released.

Leabeater said Mrs. Herben's note said she had visited Ahlers' apartment early last night and found another woman visiting him. Ahlers discovered her body when he returned to the apartment, early today, after attending a dinner party.

Ahlers called a physician and a police rescue squad, which worked an hour in a futile attempt to revive her.

Mrs. Herben in the note reproached Ahlers because she had found him with another woman, Lt. Leabeater said. It added:

"But who am I to reproach you? A little shopgirl . . . no money . . . no family position . . . lots of debts . . . but with so much love in my heart for you that I would rather die than live without you." Ahlers related he had known the woman for about a year. She was separated from her husband.

Grandpa Pays Double

URBANA, O. — (AP) — Carl Asteno is the grandfather of nine girls. Recently he announced to his four sons — Arnold, John, Thomas and Robert, all of Urbana — that he would pay a "baby bonus" of $100 for a grandson. Last week Arnold's wife became the mother of twins—both boys. Grandfather Asteno paid off — double.

Investigator Stalled; Lives 3 Days In Car

ROCK SPRINGS, Wyo. — (AP) — A U. S. labor department investigator was rescued yesterday after spending three days and two nights in his stranded car with temperatures ranging down to 20 below zero.

He is J. Donald Meyer, 29, hospital attendants say his condition is good despite frozen toes and feet.

Monday Meyer's car struck a snow drift and stalled in an isolated area.

"I had about half a ham sandwich with me when I got stuck so I rationed it out, a bite at a time, to myself," Meyer said. "When I got thirsty, I ate snow. But I didn't dare do this too often because it was so cold my lips were freezing."

Three trappers found him Wednesday.

of Hungnam, 50 miles north of Wonsan, now becomes the Allies' main escape route in the north-east. It is more centrally located for the widely scattered units of the 10th Corps.

The defense is pegged on the Yellow sea coast and extends 70 miles inland on an arc to Koksan. It is 53 miles southeast of the Red Korean capital of Pyongyang.

General MacArthur's headquarters described the U. N. line as running east and north from a tributary of the Taedong river—near the port of Chinnampo—back down to Koksan, 35 miles north of the main highway to Seoul.

Marines Get Through
American troops joined forces on the snow-swept northeast front for an escape drive through a Chinese trap.

They pushed into Koto today after a bitter battle through heavy Chinese resistance south of the Changjin reservoir.

It took them 25 hours to batter their way eight miles from Hagaru.

The first elements of two marine and two infantry regiments made their way into Koto at 7:25 a. m. (5 p. m. EST Wednesday).

Associated Press correspondent Jack MacBeth, the only correspondent in Koto, said eight hours later they "are still coming into Koto today."

Communist Party Must Register, Asks More Time

By KARL R. BAUMAN

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Communist party has filed a plea for more time to answer Attorney General McGrath's demand that it register under the new internal security law.

The subversive activities control board (SACB) reported today it has received a petition from Gus Hall, national secretary of the Communist party, U. S. A., asking a 60-day extension of time in which to reply.

McGrath, through William A. Paisley, a special assistant to the attorney general, filed an immediate objection.

Unless more time is granted, the deadline for the Communist party reply is Dec. 24—20 days after Hall and William Z. Foster, another party leader, were served notice by registered mail of McGrath's registration demand.

Russia And France Clash In UN Over China Red Invasion

LAKE SUCCESS — (AP) — France led a western power move in the United Nations today for top priority consideration of Communist China's intervention in Korea. Russia immediately opposed the move.

The clash took place in the general assembly's 60-nation political committee. Jean Chauvel, French delegate, said Chinese participation in the Korean fighting is a grave question that affects the peace of the whole world. He said it should take precedence over all other items before the committee.

Soviet Foreign Minister Andrei Y. Vishinsky said Chauvel's demand was "most unprecedented." He argued that the committee must continue with debate on Russia's charges of American aggression against Formosa.

"But who am I to reproach you? A little shopgirl . . . no money . . . no family position . . . lots of debts . . . but with so much love in my heart for you that I would rather die than live without you."

Ahlers related he had known the woman for about a year. She was separated from her husband.

Court Of Appeals Upholds Conviction Of Hiss For Perjury

NEW YORK — (AP) — Conviction of Alger Hiss, former high state department official, on a charge of perjury was unanimously upheld today by the U. S. circuit court of appeals.

The 46-year-old Hiss was convicted last January of lying when he denied slipping government secrets to Whittaker Chambers, courier for a pre-war Soviet spy ring.

Hiss was sentenced to five years in prison, but has been free in $100,000 bail pending appeal.

Jury Gives Up In Bribe Trial At Mt. Clemens

MT. CLEMENS — (AP) — The bribery trial of former State Senator Ivan A. Johnston ended today with a jury unable to agree upon his guilt or innocence.

Reporting a "hopeless deadlock" after six hours of deliberation, the jury was dismissed by Circuit Judge John Simpson. The jurors said they took six ballots.

Foreman Edward Deier declined to comment, but the Mt. Clemens Monitor-Leader said it learned the jury stood 9 to 3 for acquittal.

Judge Simpson commented in dismissing the jury: "I really feel very bad after all this work."

Meanwhile Judge Simpson disposed of the contempt case against Wilbur Held, former assistant prosecutor under Johnston.

The judge fined him $250 or 20 days yesterday and Held paid the fine under protest, pending his appeal to the state supreme court.

Last Thursday Judge Simpson ordered Held jailed for contempt after Held had said he would stand on his constitutional rights and refuse to testify.

Control Of Liquor Commission Lost By The Governor

Henderson said La Liberte's dismissal was in line with the legislature's intent when it eliminated his salary from this year's budget. La Liberte has been paid less since July 1 while he tried to get his salary restored. The state supreme court turned him down.

Henderson said the commission would start at once to meet every day at 9 a. m. and "make some of the decisions which have been hanging fire for months."

The new chairman has previously complained that Kozarek was not on the job enough and often missed commission meetings.

Henderson's appointment expires Dec. 15 but Robert G. Mathieson of Detroit, whom Williams appointed to succeed him Monday, was not confirmed by the senate. Thus Henderson presumably can stay until the 1951 legislature acts on Mathieson or until Williams names another successor after Jan. 2. The latter presumes that Williams will win the recount and be governor next year.

the Chinese were "paying much attention" to the Koksan area, on the extreme east flank of the new defense line. There were signs the Reds were building up a large concentration of troops for a push down to the road to Seoul.

U. S. First Cavalry Division patrols probed into Koksan yesterday afternoon and ran into light opposition. They returned to defensive position after capturing four enemy howitzers.

U. N. planes strafed Red troops crossing the Nam river in small boats above the city.

The Red China radio at Peiping said Pyongyang, abandoned by the Eighth Army in its withdrawal south, was occupied by Chinese and Red Korean troops Wednesday.

An eighth Army spokesman confirmed the announcement.

B-29 Superforts dropped 736 demolition bombs—500 pounders—on Red supply installations in the Changjin reservoir sector.

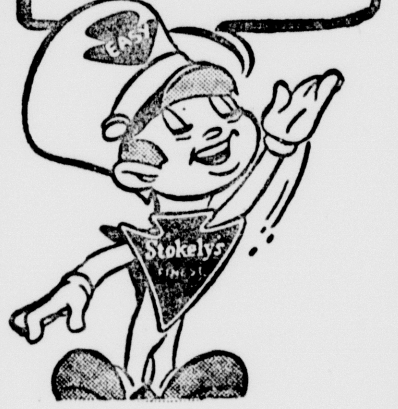

Another flight unloaded 32 tons north of the reservoir on the town of Changlin. Other superforts unloaded 49 tons on Sackang, 83 tons on Manpojin, and 24 tons at Yadam.

Corn Helps Church

BATTLE CREEK — (AP) — The Convivis Union Methodist Church's members planted 18 acres of corn on May 29 to raise money for fixing the church. An estimated 1,400 bushels were picked. Now the corn is being sold for 50 cents a bushel which will bring a gross return of about $700 to the church.

Suggest Savings Bonds As Gifts

For persons who want to give a Christmas present with a future, it is suggested that the gift be U. S. Savings Bonds.

Post offices and banks now have attractive Christmas gift folders for U. S. Savings Bonds. The folder, distributed by the U. S. Treasury Department, has a colorful cover showing a snowy mountain scene and carry a card with a gift slogan. Any denomination bond will fit inside the folder.

Putting surplus dollars into savings bonds helps strengthen and stabilize the economy, both individual and national; aids in combatting price inflation and builds up buying power for the future by putting money in a safe place where it will grow with the years.

Post offices also have U. S. Savings Stamps which parents and friends can purchase for children's stamp albums for conversion into bonds.

Bob Ruark Says

We Must Fight Our Way Out, And Not Run Away

By ROBERT C. RUARK
NEW YORK—There is quite a passel of indignation loose upon the streets at the suggestion that we just knock off the hostilities in the East, pretend they never happened, and shed a short tear for the thousands who are already dead for an ideal that we have promoted all along.

RUARK

The bar-and-grill consensus is that we were possibly stupid to stick out the neck in Korea, but we stuck it out. That being so, we were real dumb to get fouled up in the United Nations at all, since we have to finance it, and, largely, implement it. But fouled up in it we got, finance it we did, and implement it we have.

Our bosom buddies, England and France, have bounced merrily along with us to date in all our fine sensibilities, but now, with the dough on the line, they say knock off. How you going to knock off, Bud? The only history that isadder than the history of aggression is the history of bend-knee appeasement to aggressors. England wrote the book on that one, and France, heaven help us all, has certainly been unable to administrate its own affairs since they built a flimsy picket fence called the Maginot Line.

No Sure Thing

It seems today that there is no such thing as long-term credit on security, no such thing as postponement of a kick in the pants. If we are committed to a principle we are plumb hogtied to it, even if it embraces a long-time war with China—which, as I recall, we did not attack. You quit now and everybody we don't like hollers: yellow, coward, easy mark, soft touch, and smirks nicely over the opportunity to stockpile a few more firecrackers.

There is no future in fighting China, but there is less future in backing down once you've chosen up the adversary. We shoved out the chin, for God, country, and a flock of tired dependents. Said chin remains out, whether to be knocked off or withdrawn is yet unknown.

If you will pardon a personal intrusion, I went to sea for a living once ($10 a week, no overtime) back in the mid-thirties when jobs were scarce. As a fresh college graduate I was a spit in the eye to professional sailors, though I was as hungry as they.

On the first trip out, I had a lot of fights. Some I won, some I tied, and some I lost. On the second trip I had no fights. This was because I attempted to appease nobody in the foc'sle. While a lot of the boys aboard could whip me, it got to be too much trouble to bait a guy who answered a dirty crack with a fist. Moral being that Mr. Chamberlain is remembered only for his umbrella.

We Have "Difference"

We got a thing in our hip pocket today which the hoodlums call the "difference." That would be the atom bomb. Anybody with the "difference" on his person does not have to be cuffed around by people armed, for the moment, solely with brass knuckles. It seems to me we have a reasonable arguing point with the head people, which would be Mr. Stalin and associates.

This thing cannot string out, like an interminable fight between dogs. No economy will support it, when the weight of aggression is provided by puppets, by hirelings by slaves infected with indoctrination. Nor can the pleas of impotent allies for peace solve any immediate question, apart from the exposure of what Mr. Churchill used to call the soft underbelly.

I am no military brain, no statesman, but I pay some taxes and am available for war service, and am a candidate for death on the home bastion, if death comes to call, and so speak only for me, as a representative of a few million like me.

Guys like me say let's do whatever we have to do, now, wrong or right, but now. We are hip-deep in fancy talk and foolish policies but in them we are and in them we stay unless we fight our way out. This does not include the kowtow to the Chinese Reds, the Russians or to our weak-kneed conspirators for peace without honor. Nobody in history ever satisfactorily stayed off a showdown.

New Bathing Suits
Fret Australians

SYDNEY—(P)—Australian migrants from Europe who appear on Sydney's beaches in French-style bathing costumes, or undress in the open are causing beach inspectors concern.

Inspectors say, in most cases, the new Australians have protested that in the countries from which they come they had been accustomed to such habits.

A&amp;P's PRICE POLICY

Storewide Low Prices on Hundreds of Items Every Day...

... instead of just a few one-day or week-end "specials."

Advertised prices are guaranteed for one week, even though market prices go up. We believe this policy helps our customers save more money.

With the correct price marked on every item, plus an itemized cash register slip... you know what you save at A&amp;P.

The average family requires a wide variety of foods and household needs every week. It stands to reason, therefore, that it is more advantageous to shop where you can save money on many of the things you need rather than on just a few "specials." At A&P you can not only do that, but do it any day you choose, because in addition to A&P's storewide low prices on hundreds of items A&P's advertised prices are guaranteed for a full week, even though market prices go up.

SUPER MARKETS

Customers' Corner

In order to give you the utmost in quick, convenient and satisfying shopping, we have extended self-service to most of the departments in your A&P.

But that doesn't mean that when you come to A&P you're "on your own."

The large, well-trained staff in your super market are anxious to give you all the help, guidance and individual attention you need.

For instance, if you can't find a particular item or department don't hesitate to ask for it. And if you want a special cut of meat, ask for that, too.

We will welcome any suggestions you may have that will help us make self-service mean better service to you.

Christmas Books
Reviewed By Miss Brennan

Miss Bernadette Brennan gave a seasonable and enjoyable review of Christmas books last evening at the Bonifas residence, the program one of the series sponsored by the Escanaba Deaneary of the Marquette Diocesan Council of Catholic Women.

Miss Brennan introduced her subject with a brief sketch of Christmas writings of the 19th and 20th centuries. She cited as outstanding "The Christmas Carol" of Charles Dickens, Anatole France's "The Juggler of Notre Dame," "The Good Shepherd" by Gunar Gunnarson, Washington Irving's "Christmas Essays," "The Beau of Bath" by Constance Mackay, "Christmas and Twelfth Night" by Sigrid Undset and "The Other Wise Man" by Henry Van Dyke.

She closed her talk with the beautiful message of hope and peace from the liturgy of the mass at dawn on Christmas Day.

Personals

Hockey League To Reorganize

Meeting Sunday At Local City Hall

A second meeting of the Upper Peninsula Amateur Hockey league is to be held here Sunday at 2:30 o'clock in the council rooms at the city hall, it is announced by Gordon Haga, vice president of the league.

A reorganization of league officers and the official machinery of the league has been necessitated by the resignation of Larry Pratt of Escanaba who was president of the organization.

Pratt resigned after Escanaba entered another and faster league in Upper Michigan.

Representatives of Marquette, Stambaugh and Newberry, in addition to Gladstone, are expected at the meeting. For a time, it was believed that Escanaba also will have an entry in this league, but at present this appears unlikely.

So was a member of the league last season, but this year was not represented at earlier meetings.

Name Gene Davis Sergeant-Major

Gene Davis, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ross P. Davis, Lake Shore Drive, recently was promoted to the rank of sergeant major in the U. S. Air Force, according to word received here.

His promotion followed shortly after his return home from the Pacific theatre where he has been with a bomber squadron participating in the Korean battle. Upon return to the states he was again assigned to Bong Field, Wash.

Christmas Party Held By Chapter

Minneapolis Chapter No. 96, Order of the Eastern Star, held its annual Christmas party and bazaar Tuesday night following a regular meeting in the chapter hall.

There was a pleasing program which included accordion-piano selections by Noreen Sebeck and Mary Alice Cameron, a humorous Christmas reading by Betty Ohman and singing of a group of Christmas carols by Marlene Johnson and Mary Lee Mackie.

There was a Christmas tree, an exchange of gifts and refreshments were served, a Yuletide motif being used in table decorations. Mrs. Marvin Larsen, Mrs. Archie Harris and Mrs. E. H. McDonald formed the lunch committee.

Approximately 60 persons were present.

Briefly Told

Bible Instruction—A Bible instruction class will be held at 7:30 tonight at the Bethel Evangelical Free church.

Obituary

HORMEDS PARE
Funeral services for Hormeds Pare will be held at 9 Saturday at All Saints' church and burial will be in Fernwood cemetery. Friends may call at the Stradski funeral home beginning Friday morning. The rosary will be recited at 8 Friday night.

Defense Set-Up Talked At Meet

To Organize Civilians
Throughout State

City Manager H. J. Henrikson and Supt. of Schools Wallace C. Cameron have returned from Marquette where they attended a meeting designed to get a program of civilian defense started in the Upper Peninsula.

The Tuesday session was held at the Northern Michigan College of Education and is the first of a series to be held at various state colleges in Michigan.

Every community in the Upper Peninsula is to be organized in the near future along lines set up by state headquarters for civilian defense, Supt. Cameron declares.

Three cities, Sault Ste. Marie, Wakefield and Crystal Falls are already pretty well organized, it was revealed at the Marquette session.

Among the various phases of such a defense program will be first aid, blood testing and typing, aerial observing, transportation and practical nursing.

A group of aerial observers already has been formed in Gladstone under direction of Bill Girard, jr., chief observer. The importance of adequate civilian defense is stressed inasmuch as the Upper Peninsula is considered a critical spot in the event of an attack on this nation.

City Briefs

Mr. and Mrs. Chas. Nia returned Saturday from a visit at the Canadian Soo.

Gene Kee Made AF Lieutenant

Gene V. Kee was recently promoted to lieutenant in the U. S. Air Force. An enlisted man and a veteran of World War II, Lt. Kee has the enviable record of having received three promotions in the past 6 months.

Lt. and Mrs. Kee and daughter Barbara Ann arrived in Gladstone Tuesday evening from Westover Field, Mass. Lt. Kee has been transferred to Selfridge Field and will visit with Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blatterbauer until adequate housing is arranged at the lower Michigan air force base. Mrs. Kee is the former Lois Cobb, daughter of Mrs. Blatterbauer.

Mrs. Freeman Dies In Fond du Lac

Mrs. Rose Freeman, widow of Henry J. Freeman, former Soo Line dispatcher in Gladstone, died unexpectedly yesterday morning at Fond du Lac, Wis. She had submitted to surgery for gallbladder trouble and was making good progress toward recovery when she suffered a brain hemorrhage.

Surviving are three sons, Reed of Denver and Guy and Lloyd of Fond du Lac.

Services will be held at Fond du Lac Saturday and burial will be made there.

Use plentiful apples in a tapioca dessert. Just cut cored red (unpeeled) apples in matchstick size pieces and fold a cup of the apple sticks and a quarter teaspoon grated orange rind into the standard recipe for tapioca cream. Garnish the pudding top with a little extra grated orange rind.

Promotions Made At Mill

Three Transfers
Effective Monday

Three promotions are announced at the plant of the Manistique Pulp and Paper company by R. G. Hentschell, general manager. John Fisher, who has been laboratory technician at the plant for the past two years, is being transferred to the research and development department of the Mead corporation in Chillicothe, O. Fisher is a graduate of Purdue university.

Replacing Fisher is Harry Kinne, a graduate of Syracuse university, who has been superintendent of the pulp mill. The new pulp mill superintendent will be Frank Hoholik who has been personnel director of the mill for several years. The transfers are effective Monday, Hentschell said.

The mill manager also reported that transfer of office equipment to new office quarters would take place on Friday and Saturday, Dec. 15 and 16. Occupation of the new quarters, located in a large addition constructed at the plant recently, will commence Monday, Dec. 18. Present office quarters are on the third floor of the mill.

Kandell Infant Is Called By Death

Michael Jon Kandell, day old son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Kandell, of Manistique township, passed away yesterday morning at the Schoolcraft Memorial Hospital. The baby was born Tuesday.

Survivors are his parents; one brother, Terry Wayne; his maternal grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Henry Archey, of Manistique; and his paternal grandfather, Jacob Kandell, of Manistique township. Funeral services were held at 1 p. m. today from the Kefauver and Jackson funeral home, with Rev. George Pernaski, assistant pastor of St. Francis de Sales church, officiating. Burial was made in Fairview cemetery.

Barnes Named To Draft Board

Appointment Is Announced Dec. 6

Emery Barnes, a veteran of World War II, yesterday received notification from state selective service of his appointment as a member of the local draft board. He replaces Ray L. Prime who resigned two months ago.

Other members of the board are Arthur F. Hall, chairman, and Thomas Wilson, Mrs. R. J. Besner is clerk.

Briefly Told

Cracks Wrist—Billy Schobert, son of Rev. and Mrs. William H. Schobert, cracked his left wrist during intramural basketball practice Monday evening in the old gymnasium.

Locks Self in Room—Pierre LaFolite, two-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Harrison LaFolite, 110 South Cedar street, enjoyed a lot of attention the other day when he locked himself in the bathroom at his home. Pierre ignored the pleas of his parents to unlock and open the door, and they finally had to force entrance through the bathroom window to rescue their young son and heir. Pierre's moment of limelight ended in ignominy, however, as his father administered corrective treatment afterwards.

Order of Runeberg—The Order of Runeberg will hold a meeting at 8 o'clock tonight at the home of Mr. and Mrs. F. Sjogren, Manistique avenue.

Santa Claus To Visit Manistique Saturday; 1,500 Gifts Are Ready

Approximately 1,500 children of the Manistique area from pre-school ages up through the fifth grade are expected to throng Manistique Saturday during the first Santa Claus Christmas program. Including parents, older brothers and sisters, and friends, the crowd is expected to be one of the largest assembled here.

Arrangements for the program, which will include a Santa Claus parade through the city and a gift program at the high school building, were completed this week by a committee headed by the trade area development subcommittee of the local chamber of commerce. Included on the committee are members of local unions and women's groups.

Unusual Float
The parade is scheduled to start at 12:15 p. m. Saturday at the corner of Fifth and Deer streets. Included in the procession will be an unusual float built by members of local unions, under the direction of George Dorman, chairman of the parade and finance committee. The float is constructed around an old-time cutter, to be drawn by a jeep. Movable reindeer, cut out to size and shape by Bud Malloy, will be fastened to the jeep and cutter to provide a semblance of an actual Christmas sleigh drawn by reindeer. The float also will carry evergreen decorations. Also in the parade will be a portable public address system which will play Christmas music both during the march and later at the entrance to the high school building.

The procession will proceed east on Deer street to River, on

From South Cedar the parade will march to the south entrance to the high school building where it will disband.

Guardmen As Guides
Approximately 15 National Guardsmen have been assigned to guide and control the public during the gift ceremony in the high school corridor. City police will direct traffic outside of the building.

Children and the public will enter the high school building at the south entrance, across Main street from the State Savings Bank building, and will congregate in the senior high school corridor and auditorium. Santa Claus will be seated on a throne in the junior high school corridor, and gift packages will be distributed from a table in the junior corridor near the gymnasium doors. Exit from the corridor will be at the north end, facing the school playground.

A total of 1,500 gift packages are being prepared for distribution during the program, which will start about 1 p. m. and continue until about 6 p. m.

Contributions to finance the program, made by business firms, industries and local unions, totals $4.70, it is reported by the finance committee.

Hold Auxiliary Board Meeting

District Chairmen
Given Instructions

A board meeting of the women's auxiliary of the Schoolcraft Memorial hospital was held Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. Leon Nicholson, president, 214 Range street.

Guests at the meeting were auxiliary chairmen from outlying districts of the county. Mrs. Nicholson explained to them the work being undertaken by the auxiliary and offered assistance in getting various projects started.

District chairmen present were Mrs. William McEachern, Cooks; Mrs. Leon Rice, Gulliver; Mrs. James Wieland, Hiawatha; Mrs. Dorothy Michaels, Hiawatha; Mrs. John Stoor, Thompson; Mrs. Kermit Wolfe, Manistique township; and Mrs. Harrison Beach, Gulliver.

Manistique chairmen who assisted in planning work were Mrs. Edwin Crook, sewing and mending; Mrs. Kenneth Van Eyck, finance; Mrs. A. W. Heitman, making scuffs; Mrs. W. J. Bruley, surgical bandages; and Mrs. Arthur Thorp, visiting.

It was announced that Mrs. Van Eyck will have charge of the dinner to be served at the meeting on January 10. Further notice of this session will be given later.

Mrs. Beach requested all members to collect small vases, or bottles usable as vases, and give to any member of the favor committee. These will be decorated and used to hold small bouquets for bedside tables or trays.

At the conclusion of the business meeting tea was served, with the following board members assisting the hostess: Mrs. Russell Watson, Mrs. Clarence Peterson, Mrs. Ira Crawford and Mrs. Alfred Farley.

Gipp On AP All State Team; Shomin Honored

John Gipp of Calumet, third cousin of Notre Dame's immortal George Gipp, was placed on the Associated Press All-State high school football team released today.

Dick Shomin, Escanaba high school star, was named end on the third team.

Also on the third team with Shomin were Halfback Mickey McMahon of Iron River, Center Brock Strom of Ironwood, and former of Munising, and Tackle Walter Moraska of Norway. Five other Upper Peninsula players were given honorable mention.

(By The Associated Press)

A brilliant trio of backs from Flint Northern's powerful, undefeated team turned balloting for team into a rout as they grabbed berths on the 1950 first team.

It marked the first time that any school got more than one man on the first string all-star backfield.

They were Duncan MacDonald, LeRoy Bolden and Ellis Duckett—three of the big reasons why Flint Northern smashed its way to nine straight wins this season to make it a standout for honors as the state championship eleven.

They were coached by Guy Huston, former Menominee coach.

Duckett was the only repeater from the 1949 all-state team and polled the heaviest vote of all the 123 backfield candidates who figured in the voting.

Gipp Leads Ends
The Saginaw valley completed its monopoly on the AP first string backfield positions as the fourth vacancy went to Don Becker of Saginaw Arthur Hill.

Two class B schools got a man on the first team—guard Larry Sholtey of Niles and end John Gipp of Calumet.

Gipp was one of the real surprises in the state-wide balloting. He drew one of the biggest votes ever given an Upper Peninsula candidate.

A cousin of the late George Gipp, John got his first recognition from the Upper Peninsula Sportswriters' association which named him as one of the two best players in that area this season.

In the statewide balloting, Gipp had a wide lead over the rest of the end candidates. His feat was the more remarkable when it was considered that he played with a team which had only a .500 record this season—four wins and four losses.

256 Pound Tackle
Gipp was a 60-minute man with his services including some punting.

Here is a thumbnail sketch of the rest of the first team:
Ends—Gipp and Russ Varin of Detroit Redford. Varin, a 6 foot 2 inch senior rated as one of the best pass receivers in the greater Detroit area and as one of its sharpest blockers.

Tackles—Carl Diener of Saginaw Arthur Hill and Lou Marretti of East Detroit.

Diener, a 16-year-old junior, is rated one of the best high school football prospects in the state. He stands 6-4, and weighs 234.

Marretti was the keystone of East Detroit's highly respected line.

Guards—Warren Spragg of Alpena and Larry Sholtey of Niles. The 6-3, 220-pound Spragg and the 6-5, 256-pound Sholtey are a pair of guards who would make any college coach happy.

Center—Tom Mc Luckie of Midland. Mc Luckie and Bill Banaszak of Grand Rapids Catholic Central staged a real battle for this spot, with the Midland boy winning out by a tiny margin.

Georgians Ready For Texas Aggies

WASHINGTON — (P) — The year's first big post-season football game shaped up today as a ball-carrying duel between Bob Smith of Texas A. and M. and Billy Mixon of Georgia.

The game is the inaugural president's cup contest, so-called because American Legion sponsors claim President Truman approved the idea of a post-season game for charity. It will be played Saturday at Byrd stadium in suburban College Park, Md.

Both teams are due here today, Georgia arriving by train and the Texas Aggies by plane.

Smith, running star of the Aggies, may give a rugged Georgia defense its stiffest test of the year. Mixon is the hardest runner at Georgia since Frankie Sinkwich.

Irish Star Back From California

SOUTH BEND, Ind. — (P) — Quarterback Bob Williams was back at Notre Dame today after an injury-caused delay in a Los Angeles hospital.

Williams suffered a back injury in the Irish 9-7 loss to Southern California last Saturday. He remained behind for treatment after the rest of the squad had returned home.

Still wearing a back cast, Williams arrived in Chicago by plane last night. The trip to South Bend, was completed by ambulance.

ANN ARBOR — (P) — Michigan's trip to the Big Ten title has armed the Wolverines with a stout physiological weapon to beat California in the Rose bowl Jan. 1.

The memory of disappointing losses to Michigan State, Army and Illinois and the tie with puncheon Minnesota is still strong. The memory of ill-timed, heart-breaking injuries is just as vivid.

As a result, Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, his staff and his squad are preparing for a struggle. They have great respect for their unbeaten opponent.

As line coach Jack Blott puts it, "California is a powerful running team—like Army."

Laurium Gets Catholic Cage Tournament

The fourth annual Upper Peninsula Catholic high school basketball tournament will be held at Laurium Dec. 27-29, Rev. Fr. Stephen Schneider, athletic director at St. Joseph, said today.

St. Joseph is defending champion, having won last year. The Trojans also won the tournament in its first year while St. Ambrose of Ironwood won it the second year.

Other teams eligible to enter are Baraga of Marquette, St. Paul of Negaunee, Sacred Heart of Laurium and Loretto of Sault Ste. Marie.

Winners of the tournament are recipients of the Msgr. Buckholtz trophy, now held by St. Joseph.

The tournament is under the supervision of the Marquette diocesan sodality.

Wings Wallop Rangers, 9 To 0

NEW YORK — (P) — It seems to be strictly feast or famine for the Detroit Red Wings.

The Red Wings have won only two National hockey league games in their last five battles. But both wins have been by whopping big scores. The latest was last night's 9-0 blasting of the New York Rangers.

Four days earlier the Wings rocked the Montreal Canadiens 7-1.

The Wings didn't gain any ground on league-leading Toronto because the Maple Leafs also won.

Three players — Metro Prystai, Jim Mc Fadden, and Gaye Stewart—scored twice each as 6,356 fans looked on last night.

Red Kelly, captain Sid Abel, and Marty Pavelich got the other three goals.

The Boston Bruins, who also have found the going difficult, defeated the Chicago Black Hawks, 5-4, before 8,216 Boston fans. Rookie defenseman Ross Lowe snapped a 4-4 tie at 7:29 of the third period to give the Bruins their sixth victory against a dozen losses.

Toronto kept eight points ahead of second-place Detroit by trimming the Montreal Canadiens, 3-1. A crowd of 13,366 saw Harry Watson, Ted Kennedy and Tod Sloan score in each period as the Maple Leafs downed the Montrealers for the fourth time in six starts.

Ypsilanti Boy Best New England Gridder

BOSTON — (P) — Yale Fullback Bob Spears of Ypsilanti, Mich., is the winner of the Bulger trophy as "New England's outstanding football player of 1950."

The Eli captain-elect was presented the award last night by the Gridiron Club of Boston. He is the son of Dr. Clarence Spears, former coach at several major colleges.

Nahma Racks Up 4th Win; Score, 66-41

GRAND MARAIS — Held to a first quarter tie, Nahma shifted into high gear here last night in the second period to score 20 points to four for the locals and went on to whip Grand Marais, 66-41.

The victory was the fourth of the season for Coach Babe Anderson's boys, who open their home season Friday night against Rock.

Orville Larscheid and Lawrence Seymour paced the Nahma attack with 22 and 13 points respectively.

In the preliminary, the Nahma graders defeated the locals, 33 to 16.

Majors Promise Help To Minors

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. — (P) — The harried minor leagues, waging a desperate battle to curtail broadcasts of major league games saw their first ray of hope today.

President George Trautman said the little fellows received evidence that the majors had "a sympathetic attitude" to their radio-television problem.

The subject was thrashed out last night between Trautman, major and minor league committees, and commissioner A. B. Chandler.

"It is the conclusion of the committee," said Trautman, "that fundamentally the solution of this problem rests with the individual major league clubs. However, there is evidence of a sympathetic attitude to our problem by the big league representatives."

Trautman outlined a three-pronged program that he will take in person to the American national league meetings next week.

1. He will ask the major league clubs individually to curtail their own major league networks.

2. He will ask the majors for better supervision of the conduct of its broadcast outlets.

3. He will ask the majors to limit their television outlets to their home territory.

A pressure gauge has been developed that is so sensitive it can detect one air molecule out of every 1,000,000,000 originally present in a vacuum system.

Hall and Jim Ward, club vice president, will attend a league meeting Sunday at Kings Gateway at Land O Lakes, Wis.

Saddler Upset By Flanagan

DETROIT — (P) — Good looking Del Flanagan of St. Paul, Minn., was hot on the trail of lightweight champion Ike Williams today after scoring an upset victory over featherweight King Sandy Saddler in a non-title scrap here last night.

The 22-year-old Minnesota youngster was hopeful of getting a shot at Williams' crown in January and the International Boxing club indicated it would do its best to make the match.

Flanagan, whose fistic reputation had been confined previously to his home town area, won national recognition with his carefully planned triumph over Saddler.

It was the 50th fight without a defeat for Flanagan, whose four-year pro fighting career now comprises 48 wins and two draws.

The victory, achieved before a small turnout of 5,136 fans marked, Saddler's first setback in 25 fights. It was a tough one for the champ to take.

Saddler Complains
He complained bitterly about Flanagan's hit-and-run tactics and told his dressing room audience, "He wasn't tough at all. I thought it was my fight all the way."

Asked if he wanted a return bout, Saddler replied angrily "absolutely not." Flanagan didn't fight tonight and since you can't make a man fight, there is no use in getting him into the ring."

Flanagan's jubilation at his surprise win undoubtedly was shared by his stablemate, former featherweight champ Willie Pep, who played a big role in the fight even though he was not here to see it.

Flanagan's training consisted in a large part of hours spent watching movies and still pictures of the September fight in which Saddler took Pep's title away.

The St. Paul youth explained "I studied those films to get an idea of how to beat Saddler and I found it. I knew all along I could beat him."

Both Flanagan and Saddler complained

Dulles Playing Major Role In Asian Crisis

By MARQUIS CHILDS

WASHINGTON — Through all the ups and downs of the diplomatic struggle with Red China one American official has kept a determined hold on fundamental realities. He is John Foster Dulles, Republican adviser to Secretary of State Dean Acheson.

Dulles carefully planned at the United Nations an approach to the Communist delegation for a possible compromise to end the Chinese intervention in Korea. He was aware, however, that the objective of General Wu Hsu-Chuan and his delegation might be solely to make hostile propaganda.

Now Dulles is leaving his U. N. post to return to the state department for what is likely to prove an even more important assignment. In charge of the Korean issue at Lake Success and delegated to direct the drafting of a Japanese treaty, Dulles has in effect been chiefly responsible for formulating Asian policy.

Assured South Koreans

It is significant that before the present change Dulles conferred in Washington first with Acheson and others in the department and then with Senators Taft and Millikan at the capitol. If they were convinced of the importance of Dulles' role in Asia, these two Republican leaders could hold the bulk of the members of their party in the Senate for cooperation on Asian policy.

The part played by Dulles in the whole Korean matter is sometimes forgotten. Visiting Seoul three days before the North Korean attack occurred, he told the Korean parliament that if the Communists launched an invasion, the republic of Korea would not have to stand alone. In Tokyo at the time of the assault, he stated his belief that both the United States and the United Nations would resist the unwarranted aggression across the 38th parallel.

This was a bold thing to do since, as Dulles well knew, many military men believed Korea to be indefensible in the event of an all-out Communist attack. It has been frequently reported that the National Security Council concluded more than two years ago, with both military and diplomatic members agreeing, that American troops should be withdrawn from Korea since a limited force could not possibly hold the peninsula. Dulles has admitted that in the plane on the way back from Tokyo he had some bad hours wondering whether the decision would be taken to defend the Korean republic.

Dulles has never minimized the threat of Chinese intervention. He has stressed the need to try to meet the realities of Communist China with its vast military manpower with a corresponding realism in American policy. This stress on realism marks Dulles' book, "War or Peace," published three months before the Korean outbreak.

If the outcome of the Truman-Aitche talks makes it possible, Dulles will fly to Japan probably before Christmas. This will be in recognition of the change in the status of Japan in the light of the developing Korean disaster.

Japan is immediately menaced, especially in view of the fact that most of the American forces stationed in Japan were committed in Korea. In view of what is happening, it is in some respects correct to say that Japan now becomes what Korea was before June 25—a major target of Chinese Communist ambition. Foreign Minister Chou En-Lai's latest propaganda attack from Peking was devoted to American intentions with respect to Japan, coupled with the insistence that Japan must remain disarmed.

This is one reason why a tentative decision has been taken to defer the conclusion of a peace treaty with Japan. Dulles will re-survey the situation in the light of the devastating changes occurring from hour to hour.

If the Republicans show wisdom at this hour, they will follow Dulles' realistic lead. It is a time for the harshest kind of realism.

DULLES

if we are now to save what can be saved and avoid committing our force in a part of the world where it can never buttress the national security.

Senator William Knowland of California, in arguing for what would be in effect all-out war with Communist China, spoke with a stronger logic than the China-Firsters. As he pointed out, Knowland has supported every move for strengthening Western Europe and he now asks whether it is less important to defend free peoples in Asia than it is in Europe.

The answer—the hard core of realism—is related directly to American resources to wage a major war of invasion across 10,000 miles of ocean. It is also related, and here it seems to me Knowland was on the weakest ground, to the question of whether Asiatics want to be saved by American power.

To disregard the realities for however noble a motive is to court ultimate and final disaster. Other civilizations have gone down in overweening pride that far outreached their capacity. The warning signs are so clearly marked for our time.

Children Visit Iceland's Chief

REYKJAVIK, Iceland—(P)—The president of Iceland, Sveinn Bjornsson invited the children of Keflavik Airport, who are mostly of American and Icelandic-American parents, to his country residence the other day. The home, which is over 200 years old and was formerly the residence of the Danish governors, is furnished with many handcarved pieces in the traditional Icelandic style. Bjornsson invited the children into his study where he showed them his collection of photographs of European Royalty as well as many notables of the United States government.
